DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-36, drawn to a method of blasting plural layers of material in a blast field wherein one layer is subjected to a throw blast and another layer under said one layer is subjected to a stand-up blast.

Group II, claim(s) 37-68, drawn to a second method of blasting plural layers of material in a blast field wherein one layer is subjected to a blast of a first design and another layer under said one layer is subjected to a blast of a second design, including for at least some of the blastholes having charges in both layers of material an inter-hole delay time different for the first layer compared to that of the second layer.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature of Group I is that the first body of material is subjected to a stand-up blast in the single cycle of drilling, loading, and blasting, and said second body of material is subjected to a throw blast in said single cycle whereby at least a substantial part of the second body of material is thrown clear of the blast field beyond the position of said at least one free face. Group II does not include the special technical feature of Group I. In fact, Group II does not have a special technical feature of its own since all of the limitations are known in the prior art as admitted by Applicant in the specification. Specifically, Applicant admits to a reference titled "The Unique Combination of Drilling and Blasting Problems Faced by New Vaal Colliery, RSA", by Laybourne R.A., et al, 95th Annual General Meeting, Petroleum Society of CIM, 1993, No. 93, CIM Montreal, which describes a using delays between pillar charges and charges in the interburden, during a single cycle of drilling, loading, and blasting in a multi-deck blasting scenario, resulting in a different blast outcome in the second body of material to that of the first body of material. Thus, the Laybourne reference inherently discloses that the second body of material (interburden) is subjected to different inter-hole blast hole delay times in any one row to that of the first body of material (see figure 8, rows running horizontally across the figure).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
